Knowing your home is the first step to keeping it safe

How well do you know your home? Do you know when your appliances were installed? Have they been inspected recently? Are they in good working condition?

The more you know your home, the easier it is to take steps to keep it safe.

Visit NIPSCO.com/KnowYourHome to learn more about the safety risks in each area of your home – and how to reduce them.

Hire a qualified professional to:

- Inspect/install your appliances
- Inspect/install your electric or gas lines
- Identify, repair and alert you of safety concerns

You're responsible to maintain all the electric lines, gas lines and appliances inside your home.

We're here to help, you can find a local contractor by going to NIPSCO.com/SafetyContractors or choose your own.
