

Program Quality Inspectors for NIPSCO's Residential Energy Efficiency Program

Occasionally, customers are chosen for a random inspection to verify the rebate type in which they applied. If you are chosen, you will be contacted by one of the individuals below to set up a date and time for a brief, in-home equipment inspection. Allowing an inspection to be performed at your home is part of the terms and conditions for participating in the Home Energy Assessment Program, Energy Efficiency Rebates Program, and Income-Qualified Weatherization Program. We strongly encourage you to participate in the inspection process so we can make sure the Program is providing a quality service for you and other NIPSCO residential customers.
